Our Recent Treaty with China.

A Growl from the "Thunderer."

Furloughs from French Army.

PARIS, September 2.—The Moniteur, the official organ of the Government, in its last issue has an article on the state of Europe. As an indication of peace, the writer points to the significant fact that the number of men on leave of absence from the French army was never greater than at present.

Our Treaty with China.

LONDON, September 2.—The Times to-day devotes its leading column to a long analysis of the treaty recently concluded by the United States Government with the Emperor of China, through the embassy now visiting America, with Burlingame at its head. The Times says England is more interested in China than any other power. Her commerce with that country is larger, and, since the treaty of Pekin, her relations with its Government have been more friendly. She assisted the Imperial authorities in putting down the Taeping rebellion. England is the proper power for China to employ as a medium of revising her treaties with other nations, but this treaty with the United States, aiming to restore the old exclusive policy, has been rightly entrusted to the manipulation of foreign counselors, who advise what is impossible—the restoration of a retrograde system. The writer then proceeds to dissect one by one the articles of the new treaty. He calls attention to the fact that China obtains no concession from the United States; on the other hand, the latter gain a monopoly of railway and telegraph improvements. This is of itself a sufficient objection to the treaty, yet the question may be asked, is it wise for England to multiply her differences with America on such grounds as these? The article concludes as follows: "We are bound to say with conviction that there is more underneath these negotiations than appears on their surface. They bear distinct traces of foreign inspiration. It is our belief that this mission did not originate with the Chinese government. The idea of enlisting Mr. Burlingame as a recruit for the furthering of Chinese ends, so far from being spontaneous, emanated from a foreign brain, and was suggested by the departure from China of the American Minister, which was drawing near at the time the plan was formed. No doubt the proposition was joyfully welcomed by the Ministers of the Chinese Emperor, who, having no object at heart, gave one instruction to their ambassadors, viz: 'stop all progress; as for the rest [illegible] Say and do what you please.' This treaty, converted by the Embassy on their passage from China to San Francisco, is the result now before us."

METHODISM.

Second Annual Session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

NEW BRIGHTON, September 2, 1868.

The second annual session of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church (the thirty-fifth of the Methodist Church), met in the First Methodist Church, New Brighton, Beaver county, on Wednesday, September 2d, at 10 o'clock, A. M., the President, Rev. William Reeves, D. D., in the chair.

On Tuesday evening preceding, as quite a large number of the members of the Conference were present, a preparatory sermon was preached by the Rev. A. Mahan, D. D., President of the Adrian College, Michigan. Dr. Mahan, formerly President of Oberlin College, and a Congregationalist, is now fully identified with the Methodist Church, being a member of the Michigan Conference, and presiding officer of the denomination's principal institution of learning. His discourse on Tuesday evening was from 1 John, III: 1, 2, and was an able one.

The opening exercises of the Conference were conducted by the Rev. J. W. Rutledge, of Pittsburgh, after which the sermon appointed by the last annual Conference was delivered by the President, the Rev. Wm. Reeves, D. D., on the subject of "The Deaconship," from the passage contained in Paul's second letter to Timothy, 3d chapter, 8th to 13th verses, inclusive. The preacher introduced the question by admitting a diversity of opinion among Christian people concerning the nature and office of the order of Deacon. Dr. Reeves's discourse showed great research, much originality of thought, and was listened to with unusual attention by a large and intelligent congregation.

The Conference was formally opened at 11:30 A. M., roll called by the Secretary, Rev. Alex. Patton, and the credentials of lay delegates presented.

Adjourned to 1:30 P. M. Prayer by Rev. J. M. Mason.

FROM FRANKLIN, PA.

Twentieth Congressional District—Withdrawal of H. C. Johnson and Nomination of C. W. Gilfillan, of Venango—The Democratic Nomination.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

FRANKLIN, September 2, 1868.

The Republican Congressional conferees met again in Convention at this place to-day. The Clarion county delegates came here with instructions not to enter the Convention unless the Hon. H. C. Johnson resigned. Shortly after the conferees met, the resignation of Mr. Johnson was received; also the withdrawal of Hon. S. Newton Pettis, which left the contest for the nomination between McAdam, of Mercer, Gilfillan, of Venango, and Lathy, of Clarion.

Mr. Johnson, in resigning, manifested that he considered the triumph of the principles for which we, as a party, are battling, of greater value than any personal considerations, and has united the party in the District and blighted the prospects of the Democracy, who hoped to elect their candidate by keeping us divided.

After several hours of balloting, Mr. C. W. Gilfillan, of Venango, received a majority of the votes, and on motion the nomination was made unanimous.

The Democratic conferees also met here yesterday, but waited to see what the Republican Convention would do before they thought proper to nominate a candidate. A few days ago all their candidates seemed desirous of securing a "chance to run" for a seat in the "Rump," but their hopes of a division in the Republican ranks was knocked into "pi" by the resignation of Mr. Johnson, and then not one of the candidates seemed willing to "sacrifice himself," or be sacrificed, on the altar of Democracy, but all wished to withdraw. The choice, however, fell upon Mr. Robert De France, of Mercer county. FRANKLIN.

THE Turkish carpets imported into Christian countries are manufactured at Ushak, in Asia Minor, 138 miles east of Smyrna. The city contains 28,000 inhabitants, 4,000 of whom (3,500 females and 500 males) are employed in weaving carpets. The process of manufacture and the designs are the same as they were five hundred years ago, and the origin of some of the patterns is unknown. These carpets are made by families and households. Any innovation upon this ancient process would be met upon the part of the workmen with the greatest opposition. An attempt was made at Ushak to establish a steam apparatus for preparing the threads of the carpets, which so nearly caused a riot that it was obliged to be abandoned. The colors which are preferred in the carpets are madder, Persian yellow, indigo and cochineal; and, to add to their brilliancy, alum and tartar are employed. Colors from a French company were some time since introduced, but in consequence of their fading were abandoned. Eighty-four thousand square yards of these carpets are annually made at Ushak, the greater part of which is sent to England; the remainder is taken by France, Turkey and Egypt.

MR. BEECHER was lately called upon to marry two infidels, with the request that he would respect their conscientious independence of churchly ordinances as to omit any form of words based on those. The ceremony, accordingly, was enacted as follows: The groom clasped the bride's hand, saying, "I take you, ——, for my wife;" she responded, "I take you, ——, for my husband," and Beecher only added these words: "In behalf of the sentiment of the community in which we dwell, and of the laws, I declare, in virtue of what you have now done, that you are husband and wife. May the love thus declared be as strong as these evergreens (throwing at their feet some evergreens and flowers) to endure the storms and winter of life, and as fragrant and tender as the flowers of summer. May God bless you."

A Letter to Mr. Burtt.

ANDREW BURTT, ESQ.—Dear Sir: As Workingmen, we have watched your recent course with considerable interest. The tone of your speeches, from the one you made before the Democratic Convention on the day you were nominated, to the present, has been such as to give aid and comfort to the party who tried to destroy our country, and to lead them to believe that you are not only friendly to them, but that you desire and will vote for the success of their ticket.

It is true that you have used your "Damascus sword," cutting without mercy at the leaders of both the Democratic and Republican parties. Admitting there to be some justice in your criticisms, the question arises, who shall we trust as leaders in the campaign now going on? Are you quite sure that you merit such a position? You say that Workingmen are intelligent and have the right to know who and what their leaders are, yet you have kept us in the dark as to your opinion on the momentous question of who ought to be made President for the next four years.

We strongly suspect that the cause of your silence on that important question is that you dare not (for fear of losing votes for yourself) make an open declaration of your views, and thereby we think you exhibit the same political craft that you so boldly condemn in others.

No man knows better than yourself, that the meetings which are now being held all over the county and country are for the purpose of educating and shaping public opinion for an intelligent expression of choice of a chief magistrate for the next four years.

No high-minded, outspoken, patriotic citizen, such as you lead us to believe you are, should in a time like this (in our humble opinion) occupy a negative or a questionable position, or allow his ambition for an office to prevent him from a manly avowal of his views on all proper public occasions. You must not deceive yourself with the idea that we think your elevation to office is more important than all other political considerations. We desire to vote for the best interests of our country, regardless of men. We cannot help thinking that those who defended her by their money or muscle, when she needed help, are more worthy of our confidence and votes than those who declared the war for her defence a failure.

Your position as candidate for the Workingmen was, in our opinion, consistent. But your present political attitude as merely a nominal candidate for the Labor Reform party, while you are expecting and receiving your principal support from a party who did their utmost to overturn our free labor institutions, country and all, and to erect a new government founded on the aristocratic idea of capital owning its laborers, is to our minds entirely inconsistent and irreconcilable. Laboring men have often been duped and misled by the sophistries of party leaders. In the light of our experience, we must give our votes to men who occupy no equivocal positions—men who are now identified with the Union party of the nation, and are not afraid to speak out what they mean.

With respect, we are yours truly,

MANY WORKINGMEN,

SOUTH PITTSBURGH, September 1, 1868.

Senator Graham and Mr. Foster.

Monday's Chronicle contained a note from A. W. Foster, Esq., Democratic candidate for State Senator, addressed to Hon. James L. Graham, Republican candidate, in which he states Mr. Graham had been reported in the Commercial as having "charged the Democratic party with being opposed to the payment of the National debt; with being in favor of the payment of the rebel debt, and with being opposed to the payment of pensions to the wounded soldiers of the late Army of the Union." Mr. Foster pronounces these charges severally false, and challenges Mr. Graham to a joint discussion.

The following is Senator Graham's answer:

The reporter of the Commercial is slightly in error. What I did say was, "That the Democratic platform declared the reconstruction measures of Congress 'unconstitutional, revolutionary and void,' and the fourth section of the fourteenth article, upon which the reconstruction measures are based, and the adoption of which the Democracy have everywhere opposed, provides 'That the rebel debt shall not be paid by the United States, nor by any State; and that the debt of the United States incurred in prosecuting the war, shall be sacred and never repudiated."

The gentleman invites me to a joint discussion of political questions. These discussions have not been customary in this county. The press reports speakers as fully as may be desired. Any citizen can hear either of the candidates at any time. The introduction of a plan of joint meetings would accomplish no good for either party. I regard this proposition, therefore, as indicating only a wish to obtain cheap notoriety, and prefer to adhere to the usual mode of conducting political campaigns in this community.

JAMES L. GRAHAM.

IN OTHERS' HARNESS.

Independence, Preston County—Webster, Taylor County—West Virginia M. P. Conference—Adoption of the Methodist Discipline.

WEBSTER, TAYLOR CO., W. VA.,
August 27, 1868.

With much reluctance I left the camp grounds Tuesday morning as it was good to be there. But duty called me elsewhere, and her voice I ever would obey.

Accordingly I took the train at Moundsville about ten o'clock, and under a conductor worthy and well qualified, in safety reached my place of destination about three o'clock. This was Independence, Preston county, a small village eleven miles east of Grafton. This is a thriving little place, doing an extensive business in the shipment of staves. It has four stores, a mill, blacksmith and tailor shops, and one church—this belongs to the Methodists. Rev. F. H. Day is the successful pastor. With him I found a most excellent home during my sojourn. This, however, was a brief one. The next day (Wednesday), accompanied by Bro. Day, I left for Webster, Taylor county, the seat of the Fourteenth Session of the West Virginia Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

This is an enterprising town, four miles west of Grafton. It contains a large merchant grist mill, with saw mill and carding machine attached, owned by Mr. J. Maxwell; a woolen factory in successful operation, belonging to Mr. George Holland, and five stores and groceries. Mr. J. W. Stalmaker is about to commence operations in a "shuck" shop, a factory for the manufacture of staves for hogsheads, which are shipped to the West Indies for the sugar trade. There are three churches here—Methodist, Methodist Episcopal and Baptist. We reached this place at two o'clock. On board the cars were several members of Conference, Rev. Dr. Laishley, its President; Rev. J. L. Simpson, Rev. D. R. Helmick, Rev. E. Mathews and others.

As soon as practicable after the arrival of the train the Conference assembled in the Methodist Church, a beautiful edifice recently erected under the pastorship of Rev. J. B. McCormack, a standing monument to his energy and the liberality of the community. Dr. Laishley called the Conference to order, and, after religious exercises, Rev. E. Mathers was elected Secretary pro tem, with Mr. J. Wade, of Doddridge county, Assistant.

This Conference has, during the last seven years, passed through much tribulation. Being in a border State, it had to contend with all the adverse influences of the rebellion. Many members of the church and several of the ministers sympathized with the South. When the Methodist Church was formed by a union of non-Episcopal Methodist bodies, this Conference was much divided upon the subject, and delayed too long final action. The rebel sympathizers opposed the "union," and many loyal men were loath to give up the word "Protestant" in the name. As the church property belonged to the people, and it takes two-thirds of the male members over twenty-one years of age to control the same, in a number of cases the members were so equally divided that neither had the requisite majority, and both awaited for a time the openings of Providence.

About two years ago the rebel wing declined further co-operation with the loyal portion, and organized a small Conference of their own, a few men who had claimed to be loyal, yea original abolitionists, going with them. The loyal members still held on to the old name.

To-day, however, after due deliberation, by an almost unanimous vote, the body decided to place themselves under the constitution and discipline of the Methodist Church, which guarantees more rights to the laity than was granted them in the M. P. Church. The Conference, owing to its weakened condition, resolved to seek admission into the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Church, of which body it originally formed a part.

This action, which will be ratified, places them in a position of increased power and usefulness, as the reputation of the Pittsburgh Conference will give them augmented strength.

Rev. George Brown, D.D., and Rev. James B. Lucas, both of the Pittsburgh Conference, are present and ably participated in the discussions of the day, and eloquently welcomed their old brethren again to their district.

This Conference will proceed to transact its usual business, and then attach itself to the Pittsburgh District at its coming session, commencing September 2d, at New Brighton.

My engagements will not permit me to "rest" here longer. Before this letter will reach you I shall be en route for another place to work "in other's harness." COLUMBIANA.

INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS

Horatio Seymour in an Awkward Position.

The manner in which the disclosures of Colonel Wm. Brown, of Kentucky, concerning the Chase movement, have been received by Democratic organs, has called out a communication from that gentleman, addressed to the Commercial. After fully vindicating himself from the aspersion cast on him by the World that he does not know what he is talking about, Colonel Brown supplies the following interesting addition to the secret history of the Tammany Convention:

> I can tell the World that I have in my possession a copy of the platform submitted to the Chief Justice by the progressionists of the Democratic party, and that said platform was seen, read and approved by Horatio Seymour, before the Convention met, and that it accepts negro suffrage in the following language:
>
> "The American Democracy, reposing their trust, under God, in the intelligence, the patriotism, and discriminating justice of the American people, declare their fixed adhesion to the great principles of equal rights, and exact justice for all men and all States.
>
>
> "That a wise regard to the altered circumstances of the country, and impartial justice to the millions who have been enfranchised, demand the adoption of all proper constitutional measures for the protection, improvement and elevation of this portion of the American people.
>
> "That in a land of Democratic institutions, all public and private interests repose most securely on the broadest basis of suffrage." * * * *
>
> This platform has fifteen planks, and is at the service of the World, if that paper will publish it. The provisions are more liberal than those of the Chicago or the New York platform as adopted.
>
> Mr. Seymour approved and urged Mr. Chase's nomination on the platform from which I have just quoted, and if he denies it I will prove it on him. How does Mr. Seymour reconcile his approval of this platform with the declaration that the "reconstruction acts of Congress are unconstitutional, revolutionary and void," with the letter of General Blair to Col. Brodhead, which secured his nomination, and with his own letter of acceptance?
>
> As a weeper I regard Mr. Seymour as fully the equal of Job Trotter; as a man of moral courage he rivals Bob Acres; but I do think that the attempt of a few designing politicians, in whose hands he has always been a suppliant tool, to hoist him upon the American people as in any sense a statesman, is the grandest farce ever attempted in this country. When our nation so far forgets its pride, its admiration of true courage, the martial glory and warlike spirit of our race, and the memory of the dear heroes who died in the field of battle to make us what we are, as to elect such a man as Horatio Seymour President, then I shall expect to see the eagles meet in convention and elect a buzzard as their king.

Attempted Burglary—Arrest of the Would be Burglar.

Last evening about ten o'clock a bold burglary was attempted at the cutlery store of Sands & Reineman, on Fifth street. At the hour mentioned the private watchman employed by the firm was standing on the opposite side of the street, and saw a boy enter the court between the Exchange Bank and the store. He was watched closely, and soon after he climbed up upon a low part of the roof in the rear of the store and disappeared through a second story window. Officer John Glenn was notified, and soon the boy was discovered to be on the first floor. He soon discovered he was watched and made his way out of the store over the roofs of the adjoining buildings pursued by the policeman. He left the houses by a jump of some nine or ten feet, when he reached the Black Bear Hotel on Diamond Alley, and ran down the alley to Market street, and down Market to Liberty street, where he was overtaken, arrested and taken to the lock-up, where he gave his name as Hardy. A watch belonging to Mr. Reineman, three house keys, and several trunk keys were found in his possession.

VERMONT ELECTION.

[illegible] that Vermont at the election on Tuesday would go Republican. It was a question of majority. In 1867 it was about 20,000. [illegible] falling off, especially with a pretty full vote, the result would be highly encouraging for the Democrats, because it would prove that the people had begun to change against the Republicans. On the contrary, an increased Republican majority on a pretty full vote, would be equally conclusive that the changes, if any, were against the Democrats, that the people are for Grant and Colfax and against Seymour and Blair.

Every intelligent man knew that the vote in Vermont would have just this significance; and every intelligent man feels now that the result, showing a Republican gain [illegible], is the herald of victory for the Republicans in the Presidential contest.

No great excitement marked the campaign. Few large meetings were held, and there was not much speaking. Nevertheless the people understood it and both parties did their best. Like two well disciplined armies waiting only for the bugle blast, [illegible] to the fight, both sides went to it, fully realizing that while [illegible] of the battle was preliminary to the great November battle; that all the States were looking on with deep solicitude, as of old, when chosen champions fought single handed.

The result is decisive. The effect will be great and instantaneous all over the country. The action of the Green Mountain State cannot be misunderstood. Hardly another sent so large a proportion of its population to the field against the rebellion. It is now certain that the soldiers continue to vote as they fought, and that their fathers and brothers are as ready as ever to back them.

This preliminary contest proves to the Republicans that victory is within their grasp. They have a right to be encouraged—even confident. To Democrats it must be depressing. The logic is perfectly irresistible. But to win the great November Battle Republicans must do as their brethren in Vermont have done—go into the ranks every man of them, and advance in solid column. Battles have before now been lost through too great confidence, inspired by success at the outset. Let it not be so with us. The Vermont victory on Tuesday was won by polling the Republican vote. We need only to bring our forces into the field to win the victory. Vermont has done it in September, and we in Pennsylvania must do it in October. Here also we have a preliminary battle to fight, the result of which will exert an almost controlling influence on the final struggle. We have just one thing to do to win the day, and settle in advance the Presidential election. We must poll every Republican vote. Almost everything depends on this. We therefore say to Pennsylvania Republicans, that, realizing this fact, henceforth, till the election, let there be this one resolve, to be religiously kept on that day—the last man at the polls in October.

THE [illegible] PURPOSE.

The Charleston Mercury, which in 1860, did more than any other journal in the South to stir up strife, seems to be desirous of leading the way in bringing on another war. Truly one would think that South Carolina, especially the city of Charleston, has had quite a sufficiency of war and war's alarms. In discussing the important question of the day, the Mercury neither boggles nor halts in the utterance of what it conceives to be the principles underlying the theory of government suitable for the South in the present posture of affairs. Its deductions, however, are not always logical, and in its eagerness to reach a result, it frequently resorts to disingenuous arguments, having no foundation in fact. It is also addicted to the old time utterances of State rights, affects to ignore the war and the issues it settled, and in various other ways evinces a decided disinclination to accept the condition of affairs as they present themselves to all candid minds. Recently it labored to demonstrate the ease with which the people of South Carolina, (meaning the whites,) could form a constitution for the government of that State, independent of the assistance and despite of the interference of the blacks. A government, which would vindicate the supremacy of the white race, the Mercury argues, could be secured in the following manner. After quoting the clause of the Constitution which says "The United States shall, on application of the Legislature, or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened,) protect each State against domestic violence," the Mercury continues:

[illegible]

Should the negro governments in the Southern States prevent the white population from assembling, or assail them with violence, the military authorities of the United States, if called to aid the State governments, the Mercury holds, would not respond. It says:

[illegible]

The Mercury proceeds at length to compare the proposed action of the whites with that of the Dorrites in 1842. The cases are not parallel. As well might the Mercury adduce the disruption of the old Blue Laws of Massachusetts. The Dorrites did not seriously contemplate a resort to arms, and they met at a time, and for a purpose which could in no wise [illegible] the general Government.

But the most extraordinary part of the article alluded to is the claim that "it is the rightful privilege of the people, under the Constitution of the United States, peaceably to assemble when they please, and for what purpose they please."

Suppose, for instance, the people of South Carolina, black and white, were unanimous in the belief that they would be benefited by seceding from the Union. Does the Constitution grant this privilege to them, or does it not? Whatever [illegible] the people of South Carolina ever entertained upon this point [illegible] they have had abundant experience in their times, we have a right to believe the war dissipated.

The question to be decided is not so much whether the blacks shall rule the whites, as whether the latter shall [illegible] of their old masters. Without stopping to discuss this, we ask the reader to peruse carefully the spirit evinced in the above extracts. The deductions inevitably point to but one conclusion, namely: the decided purpose of the rebel element to regard the reconstruction acts as null and void, to wrest the State Government from the hands of loyal men, assume the government themselves, and, to all practical intents and purposes, carry out their theory of State rights to the utmost limit. This they propose to do in defiance of the General Government, relying upon the aid of a Democratic President and Vice President, confident that they will be permitted to regulate their own affairs, independent of the supervision, and free from the interruption of Congress and the courts. This being their firm resolve, they expressly declare their intention to resort to arms to accomplish their object. All this agrees with the Tammany platform and candidates, as foreshadowed by the letter of Blair, which secured his nomination.

THE MAYORALTY.

The Democrats are resorting to every expedient in order to secure to themselves the patronage of the city government for the coming three years. Among the latest rumors concerning their operations in regard to the Mayoralty, is one that an attempt is to be made to induce Mr. [illegible] Jenness to become an Independent candidate—not that he would have the slightest prospect of an election, but solely for the purpose of diverting Republican votes for the benefit of Mr. Blackmore.

We cannot believe that Mr. Jenness will permit himself to be used in any such way, and were the attempt seriously made, we are confident that his friends would at once advise him against taking such a perilous step. He has been, and it is not doubted that he still is, a good Republican. He has been honored with position by his party, and was most earnestly supported by his friends for the mayoralty nomination in the late exciting contest, and they are well aware that he voluntarily pledged himself to the party to abide by its decision, and even after the nomination was made, publicly announced himself satisfied with the result, and his determination to support his successful competitor, Mr. Brush. Nor is this all. He has repeatedly assured Mr. Brush, in the presence of several of his personal friends, that he will give him a cordial support. It is scarcely possible, therefore, that Mr. Jenness can become a candidate, whereby, while inflicting an injury upon the party which has honored and sustained him in the past, and may honor him in the future, he will compromise his own character for integrity, and place his most devoted friends in a position where they would be compelled to oppose him as earnestly as they have heretofore given him their support.

The rebel chieftains are not disposed to submit to the discipline that the Tammany politicians have undertaken to enforce. Notwithstanding the recent attempts to keep the chieftains quiet, they continue to talk right out. General Toombs a few days since, at Cedar Town, Georgia, made another characteristic speech, in which, after spouting fire at the North by the yard, he spoke of General Grant as follows:

[illegible]

It is reported that Gov. Seymour has advised Gen. Rosecrans not to publish his White Sulphur interview with the rebel Generals. Seymour knows that they are for him, and that answers his purpose. We suspect that it has come out that Lee, Beauregard & Co. were not so unlike Hampton, Forrest & Co., or so lamb-like, as has been reported. You may be certain if anything could be said to help the failing fortunes of the Tammany Ticket, silence would not be kept by Dr. Chickamauga.

The Infidelists have fared badly in Vermont. The people of that State are as intelligent as they are patriotic. They are in favor of repudiation in no form whatever, nor will they consent to have the Government pass into the hands of men who led in the attempt to overthrow it. Vermont soldiers had no superiors. They knew for what they fought, and they vote as they fought. The revival of the old issue brought every man of them to his feet. So will it be everywhere.

We are glad to see that our Republican friends in the Twentieth District have harmonized their differences by the voluntary withdrawal of Hon. H. C. Johnson and the nomination of C. W. Gilfillan, Esq., by the unanimous vote of the new conference. This will secure three thousand majority in the District in October.

The fact that one hundred Union men whipped three hundred Arkansas rebels [illegible], shows that the old spirit is not yet dead. It should be a warning to those supporters of Seymour and Blair who talk about another revolution and carrying things at the point of the bayonet.

A letter dated at Denver, August 27, giving a detail account of the Indian ravages, says some apprehension was felt for the safety of Speaker Colfax and the party of friends with him, who were supposed to be somewhere in the region overrun by the savages.

Important Movement Among the Jews.

The spirit of reform has been strikingly illustrated at the city of Cassel, in Hesse-Cassel, one of the smallest of the German States, in which an international congress of Jewish Rabbis convened on the 11th ult. for the purpose of discussing questions of vital importance to the Jewish religion. Rabbis were present from all parts of Germany, from Vienna, Switzerland, Sweden and England. We observe the names of many whose reputation is not confined to their own country, among others Dr. Wolff, of Gothenburg, Sweden, [illegible], England, [illegible], Dr. Aub, of Berlin, and Dr. Geiger, of Frankfort-on-the-Main. From the proceedings of the Congress, which [illegible] three days, we learn that the conflict between religion and science impels the representatives of the Israelitish congregations throughout Europe to modify the views which they have held for centuries. The majority of the convention exhibited an unwillingness to decide the various questions discussed, preferring rather to adopt a series of resolutions which should serve the congregations as a guide, leaving every Jewish community at liberty to follow its own dictates. Among the questions discussed at length was the propriety of using, in worshiping, as far as possible, the German language, a general abbreviation of the service, the necessity of new [illegible], and the dismissal of those portions of the service which treat of sacrifice and votive offerings. Thirty questions bearing upon reforms in the synagogical ritual were finally referred to a committee, which will decide upon them and report in due season. All the questions discussed were submitted to this committee, which is made up of twelve of the most prominent Jewish Rabbis. The proceedings [illegible] that some of the Rabbis present were delegated by congregations [illegible] of their brethren in discussing reforms. As a matter of course, the Congress had to hold its [illegible], in order to avoid the appearance of hierarchical usurpation, but the spirit of reform is nevertheless apparent in every movement made by them.

No better evidence of the fact that the spirit of intolerance and bigotry rules Ireland could be furnished than the announcement that [illegible] Jones, the Liberal candidate from Queens county, has been "obliged to retire from the contest." The opposition of the Dublin Nation, which condemned him on account of his Protestant sentiments, and the industrious circulation of the story that he was a partisan of Garibaldi, drove him from the field. A number of the leading Irish journals censure the people of Queens county for this exhibition of bigotry, intolerance and stupidity. It is a lamentable fact that men like Mr. Jones are invariably abused, decried and [illegible] by the majority of the Irish people, who, while [illegible] for progress and liberty, rarely ever permit an opportunity to assail its apostles go unimproved.

SMALL NOTES.

The power of the press was never illustrated more clearly [illegible] the suppression of the Lanterne by Napoleon [illegible]. Napoleon, from all that we can learn, is equally indifferent whether he maintains peace or declares war with the greatest powers of Europe; he is ready and fully prepared to meet them, perfectly confident that the French eagle will survive the most sanguinary shock, but he fears the press. His policy is uncertain in every other matter save in regard to the course he is to pursue with the press; against the press he is resolved to wage warfare to the bitter end. And the end is Rochefort. [illegible]

The Cincinnati Chronicle has discovered the secret of the old fogyism which broods over that city. [illegible]

We hope the press will give us no more of the "wickedest man in New York." [illegible]

Wheeler and Butler, of Arkansas, prominent Republicans, escaped death at the hands of their assassins. Dr. A. M. Johnson, a member of the Legislature, was not so fortunate. [illegible]

The Proposed New Railroad to Tidioute.

The project of constructing another independent trunk line railroad between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia is again being agitated in some of the interior counties. A correspondent of the Bloody Run (Bedford county) Press says:

Atlantic and Great Western Railroad.

The Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company, after sustaining trials under which almost any other Company under less able management would have succumbed, we are gratified to see is emerging from the difficulties which surrounded it, evincing a vigor and strength, which promises well for its future success. Concord and harmony has been restored to the councils of the stockholders, and the management of the road vindicated in a striking manner. The shares to-day are worth twenty shillings in the pound. Speaking of the success of the Company, we learn that a party composed of a number of the largest shareholders are now on their way from Europe for the purpose of disposing of the road to the Erie Railway Company. The present condition of the latter, it is thought, will afford Mr. McHenry and his friends an excellent opportunity to advance the interests of both Companies. [illegible]

"CONSIDERABLE MERIT."

[From O. O. Thwing, M. D., New Philadelphia, O.]

NEW PHILADELPHIA, OHIO, December 21, 1864.

MR. CLARK: I am acquainted with several persons who have used Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, and from their testimony I am convinced that the medicine possesses considerable merit. I should be glad to recommend it to my patients who may need such a medicine, and also to use, when occasion may require, in my own practice; but our code of ethics, to which I freely subscribed, disallows me to use a medicine the ingredients of which I am unacquainted with. Most manufacturers of proprietary medicines do not hesitate to furnish their formulas to physicians, and if you are one of those, please send me your formula, and it is quite likely that it will lead to the sale of a few bottles, to say the least. I would suggest that it would be advisable to make depositories of the medicine in more places than you have in this State. There are many flourishing towns, where your medicine cannot yet be found, and where, I have no doubt, from what I know of the medicine, they would have a large sale. If you do not wish to have your complete formula known, please state the ingredients composing it.

O. O. THWING, M. D.

"A VALUABLE THING."

[From James M. Clark, Baldwinsville, N. Y.]

GENTS: Allow me to say that, although, as a general thing, I have a pretty poor opinion of patent medicine, still I am disposed to regard your "Coe's Dyspepsia Remedy" as a valuable thing. From boyhood I have been troubled with the most terrible turns of sick headache that ever fell to the lot of suffering humanity, and, although I have swallowed almost every known specific for this disease, none has ever seemed to permanently benefit me but this "Coe's Dyspepsia Cure." I have not yet taken quite a bottle, and since I have commenced its use I have not had even a symptom of the headache. This is two months since. Previous to that I usually had it at least once a week, sometimes twice.

Respectfully, JAMES M. CLARK.

"THE BEST ARTICLE."

[From T. J. Rand, Muskegon, Mich.]

MUSKEGON, MICH., May 27, 1867.

Messrs. C. G. CLARK & Co.:

Having used Coe's Dyspepsia Cure, I can recommend it to all who are troubled with that complaint. It cured me after having suffered for ten years, and tried many other remedies without receiving any relief. I believe it to be the best article before the people for the cure of Dyspepsia.

Yours, &c., T. J. RAND, Banker, Muskegon, Mich.

"A PERFECT CURE."

[From J. H. Moulton, Battle Creek, Mich.]

BATTLE CREEK, May 5, 1868.

Messrs. ANDREWS & GRANDINE, Druggists:

In reply to your inquiry as to results in using the bottle of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure we purchased from you, we take the first opportunity to state that having used it for Indigestion, I can certify that in my case it has proved itself a perfect cure.

I most cheerfully and earnestly recommend it to every one who has suffered from the ravages and horrors of this terrible disease. Yours truly,

JOHN F. MOULTON.

"INSTANT RELIEF."

[From J. W. Niel, M. D., Delaware, Ohio.]

Messrs. CONNELL & Co., Druggists:

In reply to your inquiry as to results in using the bottle of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure we purchased from you, we take the first opportunity to state that, for a young man, I am an old Dyspeptic, and have tried almost everything in the line of prescriptions and formulas, from physicians and books, and never found anything to equal Coe's Dyspepsia Cure. The first dose I took of the Cure, I felt almost instant relief, and went about my business in a happier mood than I had for years before. After finishing one bottle, I arrived at the happy conclusion that I was cured, and had it not been for my own imprudence in eating, I doubt whether the disease would ever have returned. I most cheerfully and earnestly recommend it to every one who has suffered from the ravages and horrors of this terrible disease. Yours, truly,

J. W. NIEL, M. D.

"VERY MODEST."

[From H. M. T. Smith, Dunkirk, N. Y.]

DUNKIRK, N. Y., May 1, 1868.

GENTS—I inclose your circular. I know of two parties—wives of prominent citizens in this place—who have been greatly benefitted, if not cured, by the use of your Dyspeptic Cure, but they will not consent to the public use of their names. And thus the matter rests, with a steadily increasing sale.

Yours, respectfully, H. M. T. SMITH.

"REPUTATION GAINING."

[From Rev. Allen Crowell, Brookville, Pa.]

LUTHERSBURG, Pa., May 2, 1867.

Mr. JOSEPH FLEMING:

SIR—"Coe's Dyspepsia Cure" is gaining a reputation amongst our people. The medicine already used is having the desired effect. A friend wishes me to get a bottle for him, for which I send you $1. Send to my address, as soon as possible.

Yours, &c., REV. D. ALLEN CROWELL, Brookville, Jefferson Co., Pa.

Our Saws are Oil Tempered, Patent Ground, made to Run well.

You will find each Saw of one Temper in Hard and Soft Spots in the same Saw.

We accomplish this by our Patent Tempering Process, and you can not get this from any other Saw Maker, as we own the Patents for the United States.

We do not claim to make a cheaper Saw than any one else, but one that will run at the word go, and will give no trouble, and will keep round longer, because being uniform with Temper, it will not wear on one side faster than the other.

We invite correspondence, or an interview with the practical man of your firm.

DR. SARGENT'S BACKACHE PILLS

A CERTAIN AND RELIABLE REMEDY FOR ALL DISEASES OF THE Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary Organs.

Any derangement or obstruction of these Organs is quickly followed by acute suffering, which, if not corrected immediately, will be followed by the most disastrous consequences. Nature herself will not rally from any prostration of these organs, but must be assisted by the use of a Diuretic; as such

DR. SARGENT'S BACKACHE PILLS

Stand pre-eminent, having proved themselves superior to any medicine yet discovered for affections of the Kidneys, &c.

Read the following testimony in their favor:

GEO. A. KELLY—Dear Sir: I was so badly afflicted with pain in the kidneys that I could hardly turn myself in bed, and breathing also caused me severe pain. I had given up hopes of ever getting well again, when I bought a box of Dr. SARGENT'S BACKACHE PILLS, which at once relieved me, and I believe they have been the means of the cure. I have also recommended them to others where like complaints were made, and they have in every case proved efficacious. I cheerfully recommend them to any one suffering from this trouble, as I believe they are the best medicine for this class of diseases I have ever heard of. Any further information can be obtained by seeing me at Outer Depot, Pennsylvania Railroad, or at my residence, No. 55 Arthurs street.

The Celebrated Walter Grape.

After twenty-five years experience with the present tender, and late varieties we know the Walter, now first offered, will restore confidence in Grape raising. It never rots. Its abundant sugar raisins it in-doors or on the vine; it is a great grower and bearer, and now contains 146 clusters of bloom; is very compact in cluster at the East, which is in advantage in marketing. We have not known the foliage to mildew. It succeeds in dry and very wet soil. Is a seedling of the Delaware, crossed with the Diana, and better than either. Ripens before the Hartford, therefore, the earliest, hardiest and best variety. No. 1, one year, $5 each, in advance. Orders filled in rotation, while supply lasts. No charge for packing. Send stamp for beautiful cut and opinions of many vineyards.
